EXPLORE Descriptions

Dangerous Love: a story of tragedy, faith, and forgiveness

Ray and Helene Norman lived in Mauritania serving the Muslim people over the time of 9/11. What follows in their family's life shows that God gives courage, not only to face extreme circumstances, but also to make uncomfortable choices. In the midst of it all, His grace comes through in unexpected ways. You can also read this story in Norman's book Dangerous Love.

God's Vision for All the Nations

What do Scriptures reveal about God's heart for all the nations? Brother Dale speaks out of experience in the Word and working with churches and church planters all across North, Central, and South America.

Our Role as a Sending Church

Cuba Mennonite Church has partnered with All-Nations for over 5 years in sending a family from their church. Brother Ron will let us in on a bit of that journey.

First North and Then South

Rejoice in God's leading as DS describes how their team came together, received support and blessing from their church, and investigated the needs of one people group and then another.

Becoming a Bible Translator

Ethan and Lynnae will explain the role of Bible translation in a language group and how God led them into this work and to southern Mexico.

Exploring Sustainable Community Development

What has All-Nations been learning and doing toward effective community development? Joel and others will share fascinating take-aways from the conference we participated in this spring.

Mother-tongue Literacy: Let the written word speak!

Is it important for communities to learn to read in their own language? Learn what literacy workers and coaches do, and why their work can be transformational as a function of church-planting teams.

Resources for Church Planting Teams

We have been researching and compiling resources for our teams and their churches who provide direction to church planting on the field. Brother Earl will describe some of the jewels we've found.

Amazonian Opportunities: Extending the Church's Edge

Are the dozens of people groups in the Amazon jungles out of our reach? Why are so many of them mis-reached? DW will share a vision of how we can reach them effectively with the gospel.
